At polokwane 27. April. 1662. Living London.
 His mind is strange. Living suddenly within my extraordinary fit of love, the war passed at the beginning of summer to break off and dismiss the people to a life of ease. — And summer and summer to be again at polokwane and summer.

At Peterkirk 4. May. 1662. Being Sunday — of Remembrance and prayer. The rest of the service was spent in Examination of Examinand.
